

Summer 2010

New Format

This is our first newsletter that will be available on line or in the store and will be one page rather than two. Don't worry – I'll include recipes as a hand out in the store. In the spirit of recycling and conservation, we are no longer mailing our newsletters. We will continue to send postcards as a reminder of special events, but we will also have a calendar on our website where you can check on what's happening. Our website is www.secondglance.biz. You can print the coupons and bring them in, or just mention them at check out. You will have one coupon per month.

We have updated our website with a local company so that we can make changes on a regular basis. That means that photos will be put on when we have special events, photos of new items can be put on regularly so you can check our new inventory. We hope you like the changes and will check us out regularly to see what's happening here and to maybe find your photo.

Bus Trip

We made some changes on our last bus trip and had the best time ever. We went to a smaller bus with tables in the front and a lounging couch in the back. Those who went for the first time have already given us their names for the next one. We will be making some trips to Pennsylvania to find a different route for the next trip. It will be sometime in October and we'll let you know (check our website calendar) when the date is chosen.

Summer outfits!

We have gotten such great clothing and awesome brand names this summer. We have a beautiful Kate Spade straw purse, Nanette Lepore blouses and pants, Lilly Pulitzer sun dresses and designer jeans- just got some True Religion. Every season is like Christmas to us here as we go through the new items and put them on the floor.

Bag Sale for a Cause!!

Our annual bag sale will be Saturday, July 31 beginning at 10:00. We are making a change this year, though. For those who don't know what a "bag sale" is, let me explain. Everything summer will be half price, but anything that has been in our store for over 60 days is eligible to be put into a bag (we supply the bag) and you can fill that bag with as many of those items as possible and the cost of the entire bag is $45.00. It is a huge saving to you and this year we will be giving a percentage of all bags sold to The Lighthouse Pregnancy Shoulder. It gives us (and you) a chance to help families trying to make ends meet and we can give money to help them instead of just clothes. Lighthouse is opening a second location in Hackensack and we are excited about helping them offer counseling and free sonograms. Come in and help us and get great bargains!
